Nazi Escape Road From Crimea Cut

LONDON (CP)—Gen. Feodor Sibukhin's steppe army, racing eastward toward the lower Dnieper River, has cut the Germans' retreat road from the Crimea with the capture of the town of Perekop, at the northwestern entrance into the peninsula, Moscow announced tonight.

Sealing off tens of thousands of Germans inside the Crimea, the Russians also immediately began driving across the 15-mile-long Perekop isthmus toward the big peninsula.

Child Hit By Truck

Leonard Bullen, age three, suffered cuts and bruises about the face at 1:40 this afternoon when he was struck at Burnside and Vancouver Streets by a truck operated by R. Gorton, Marigold. The child was removed to St. Joseph's hospital.

I.S. Boosts Postage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Increases from three to four cents in the charge on out-of-town letters and from two to three cents on local letters were voted today by the U.S. House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee, which also decided to cut back the air mail rate from a tentatively approved 10 cents to 8 cents. The present rate is 5 cents.

Alberta Defaults

EDMONTON (CP)—Alberta today defaulted on a $3,012,463 issue of provincial bonds, the third issue this year on which the province has failed to pay the principal of its bonded debt. Alberta will continue to pay interest on past-due bonds at half the original rates.

U.S. Lumber Lack

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. War Production Board hinted at the possibility of more rigid controls over lumber use today in declaring retail and wholesale stocks of lumber are "critically low."

Delay Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—United Mine Workers policy committee today deferred conclusion on the question of ending the current coal mine strike, deciding instead to refer the matter to a subcommittee which will report back Tuesday.

Nazis Come Back

WINNIPEG (CP)—Nineteen German prisoners of war returned to the fuel wood camp in Riding Mountain National Park today after an absence of more than 20 hours. They escaped early Sunday afternoon and were reported missing late Sunday night.

After a night in the woods, during which there was a heavy fall of snow, the men walked into the camp in groups today.

Motorist Killed

John A. Voykin of Glade, B.C., was instantly killed and two others were injured—two seriously—when the car Voykin was driving and a truck driven by John Waldie, Castlegar, collided Saturday night near Shoreacres. Voykin's car was wrecked. Neither Waldie nor a passenger in the truck were injured.

Coal Production In West Halts As 8,500 Men Strike

All coal miners at Nanaimo and Cumberland were idle today except for skeleton maintenance crews. Representatives of the operators referred all inquiries to the head offices in Vancouver. Union officials said the men were sitting tight awaiting further developments from district headquarters at Calgary.

On the mainland, 1,000 miners of the Crow's Nest Pass area were idle, approximately 6,000 out. In all some 8,500 are affected.

At Ottawa Labor Department officials today received word that a four-man delegation representing District 18, United Mine Workers of America, B.C. and Alberta—on its way to discuss the strike—had been delayed by bad flying conditions and would not reach the capital until tomorrow.

The delegation, headed by Robert Livett, district president, left Lethbridge, Alta., Sunday evening in response to a telegraphed invitation from Labor Minister Mitchell, who asked that the executive come to Ottawa for discussions looking to a settlement of the wage dispute, in the "national interest."

Delegation Ready For Reasonable Plan

In Regina, where the delegation was grounded, Livett said the union delegation is "open to a fair and reasonable offer."

In Ottawa labor department officials said the strike of 8,500 miners was "definitely illegal," having been called while a Royal Commission was in process of dealing with the miners' demands for increased wages.

In Alberta the Ottawa ruling was confirmed when the strike said to be the largest coal strike in Canada's history, was declared "illegal" by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor, chairman of the Royal Commission appointed to inquire into miners' wages.

The union seeks a standard rate of $5.78 a day in all mines in the two provinces. It also asked for two weeks' holidays a year with pay and time and a half for the sixth day of work each week.

The union had objected to failure of the government to give the commission powers to put its recommendations into effect without any review by the government.

Mr. Justice O'Connor replied to Mr. Livett that "you want the hands of the government tied, but to leave you free to put the issue up to your members. You want to be above the government. . . you are calling an illegal strike. . . Good Canadians are going to suffer in body and health and some are going to die. The responsibility for that rests firmly on the shoulders of your district executive."

In the Crow's Nest Pass area speakers at meetings said it was distasteful to strike at this time but there was no alternative. They said discontent has prevailed for some time because miners felt the wages were inadequate compared with other industries and failure to adjust grievances aggravated the discontent.

Miners there decided to send skeleton crews into workings to prevent any extensive permanent deterioration and agreed to provide workers on notification of any unusual underground disturbance during cessation.

The strike will delay opening of the new Elk River Colliery at Fernie, which was expected to begin limited operation late in December.

Operation of the Michel coke oven plant will not end abruptly as the union is allowing temporary operation until it can be properly closed down.

Union officials said picketing was not planned, but would be put into effect if warranted.

Some indications of the ramifications of the strike's effect on life in the affected areas was seen at Edmonton, where city commissioners today discussed possibility of a dimout here to conserve coal at the city power plant because of the strike.

Street Lighting Reduced By Half

Later it was decided to reduce Edmonton's street lighting by 50 per cent, starting tonight.

Farther south, in Calgary, Canadian Utilities Ltd., which supplies power obtained from steam coal plants in Drumheller and Saskatchewan points, announced today it had been obliged to discontinue street lighting services and window lighting in Drumheller, Stettler, Hanna, Castor, Coronation and Three Hills and all the intervening towns and villages.

R. G. Watson, superintendent of the Edmonton power plant, said there was less than 6,000 tons of coal in reserve—half the amount required to meet the peak load of electricity with safety. Electric signs and every unnecessary light is expected to be extinguished.

Meanwhile, A. N. Scott, general manager of Luscar and Mountain Park mines in the "Coal Branch" southwest of Edmonton, said more than 1,000 men employed at these mines and also at Cadomin, had ceased operations. As provided under the union agreements, maintenance men only were on duty at the mines.

Albertans Have No Reserves

A "terrible situation" will have to be faced in many parts of Alberta if the strike lasts even a week or 10 days, Mr. Justice C. C. McLaurin, Alberta regional coal controller, stated this afternoon.

"There is no Alberta coal stockpile other than those of the railways and some industrial concerns," he said. "As fast as the mines have been producing coal it had been shipped away, and only a few tons remain in the hands of dealers."

$1,170,317 Paid In Work Benefits

VANCOUVER (CP)—Unemployment insurance benefits paid to workers in Canada since January, 1942, amount to $1,170,317.31, it was announced today by William A. McKinstry, regional superintendent of the Dominion Unemployment Commission.

"From this statement there is little or no question but what the unemployment insurance scheme has proved to be successful," he said.

Mr. McKinstry also said the unemployment insurance fund now amounts to $150,177,084.36.

Stevens Hotel Reopens

CHICAGO (AP)—The Stevens, world's largest hotel, reopened its doors today after 13 months of U.S. army occupation, and found 1,100 of its 3,000 rooms were ready and occupied. Arnold S. Kirkeby, president of the Stevens Hotels, bought the Stevens for $5,251,000.

2 Nazi Spies Die Before French Firing Squad

These dramatic pictures show the end of the careers of two enemy agents, trained in German espionage and sabotage schools before being sent to work in Syria and the Levant States. Caught and tried at Aleppo by the Fighting French, they confessed planning to poison Allied soldiers, to blow up power plants and reservoirs, and to get information about a refugee army.

The upper picture, taken shortly after dawn, shows guards leading the condemned men to stakes in front of two firing squads. In each squad of 12 soldiers, half of the rifles are loaded with live ammunition, the other six with blanks; and none of the soldiers knows whether he is about to help kill a man.

The spies have been tied to the posts, in the second picture, but both have refused blindfolds. A non-commissioned officer raises his saber . . . The sabre flashes down, third picture, and 24 soldiers pull their triggers. As the slugs strike their bodies, one of the spies slumps to the ground. Bullets have sheered off the post behind the taller spy, and his body remains upright, held to the stump by the bonds.

Great Day for United Nations

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press War Analyst
The news from Moscow is almost unbelievably good.

Right now, and rightfully, there spreads through the heart of all peace-loving mankind a lightness which has not been felt since the morning of Nov. 11, 1918.

There is no use hedging about it. The English-speaking peoples have been waging war with a load on their minds—an apprehension about the intentions of Russia.

But today's tripartite statement is so forthright, so compelling, as automatically to brush away a large portion of the cloud.

The message from Moscow says Russia, with us in war, is with us in peace, that the countries which will emerge from war as the overwhelmingly great powers of the world will stand together—for establishment of an international organization for the maintenance of peace.

4-Power Pact Signed At Moscow Covers Atrocities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Great Britain, the United States, Russia and China have pledged themselves to united action in the peace to follow defeat of their enemies and to establishment of "a general international organization" for maintaining peace and security.

This declaration was signed by the Big Four of the United Nations at the Moscow conference attended by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain, Cordell Hull, U.S. Secretary of State, and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov of Russia. It was made public simultaneously today in Washington, London and Moscow.

In a joint communique, the tripartite conference agreed to establish an U.S.-British-Russian "European advisory commission" in London to examine European questions arising as the war develops.

Plan Advisory Council On Italy

The foreign ministers also decided to set up an advisory council on Italy with representatives from the French Committee, Yugoslavia and Greece.

The council on Italy will deal with day to day questions other than military preparations and make recommendations designed to co-ordinate Allied policy with regard to Italy.

The three foreign ministers also said military experts at the conference discussed definite operations already decided and now being prepared "to create a basis for the closest military co-operation in the future between the three countries."

Other questions besides current problems taken up at the conference, the communique said, concerned treatment of Hitlerite Germany and its satellites, economic co-operation and assurance of general peace.

"Frank and exhaustive discussions of the measures to be taken to shorten the war against Germany and her satellites in "Europe" also took place, the communique declared.

In the four-power declaration in which China joined, the countries said:

1. That their united action, pledged for the prosecution of the war against their respective enemies, will be continued for the organization and maintenance of peace and security.

2. That those of them at war with a common enemy will act together in all matters relating to the surrender and disarmament of that enemy.

3. That they will take all measures deemed by them to be necessary to provide against any violation of the terms imposed upon the enemy.

4. That they recognize the necessity of establishment at the earliest practicable date of a general international organization, based on the principle of the sovereign equality of all peace-loving states, and open to membership by all such states, large and small, for the maintenance of international peace and security.

International Body to Keep Peace

5. That for the purpose of maintaining international peace and security pending the re-establishment of law and order and the inauguration of a system of general security, they will consult with one another and as occasion requires with other members of the United Nations with a view to joint action on behalf of the community of nations.

6. That after the termination of hostilities they will not employ their military forces within the territories of other states except for the purposes envisaged in this declaration and after joint consultation.

7. That they will confer and co-operate with one another and with other members of the United Nations to bring about a practicable general agreement with respect to the regulation of armaments in the postwar period.

China did not participate in the other declarations, dealing with the European war. They were:

1. Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin promised that those German officers and men, and members of the Nazi party, who have been guilty of atrocities—either directly or by consent—will be taken back to the scene of their crimes after the war and there tried according to the laws of the country concerned.

2. Britain, Russia and the United States agreed on Allied policy toward Italy, based on a determination to wipe out Fascist influence and to give the Italian people "every opportunity to establish governmental and other institutions based upon democratic principles."

3. The three also declared that "Austria, first free country to fall victim to Hitlerite aggression, shall be liberated from German domination."

The joint four-power declaration obviously left the way open for Russia to remain neutral as far as Japan is concerned, but provided a guarantee that neither Russia nor the western Allies would sign a separate peace or take other separate action against their joint enemies.

While recognizing the "necessity of establishing at the earliest practicable date a general international organization," the four powers did not attempt to specify the nature of that organization beyond insisting on equality of sovereignty of all peace-loving states, with membership open to all such states, large and small.

Regulation of armaments after the war was left to such a time as the United Nations "will confer with one another . . . to bring about a practicable general agreement."

In their declaration on Austria, the three powers said they regarded the Anschluss with Germany as null and void and considered themselves in no way bound by any changes in Austria since then.

The future of the Balkans may be affected by the next clause. "They declare that they wish to see re-established a free and independent Austria and thereby to open the way for the Austrian people themselves as well as those neighboring states which will be faced with similar problems, to find that political and economic security which is the only basis for lasting peace."

Then a warning, and an invitation to all Germany's satellites: "Austria is reminded, however, that she has a responsibility, which she cannot evade, for participation in the war at the side of Hitlerite Germany, and that in the final settlement account will inevitably be taken of her own contribution to her liberation." (See Story "Italy To Be Freed" Page 2.)

Canada Consulted On Moscow Pact

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada was consulted about the terms of the four-power declaration on general security issued after the Moscow conference and the government is "fully in accord with its provisions," Prime Minister King said today in a brief statement.

The Prime Minister, who received day-to-day reports on the meeting of British, U.S., Chinese and Russian representatives and knew of the terms of the declaration before it was made public, said he welcomed it "most warmly."

No Canadian Parcels On Sunk Red Cross Ship

LONDON (CP)—An official of the International Red Cross today said Red Cross packages on board the Portuguese steamship Padua, which the German radio said Saturday had been sunk, were packed in Britain.

There were no Canadian packages in the cargo; 11,000 bags of Red Cross parcels for prisoners of war, the official said. The 1,080-ton vessel was reported to have struck a mine off Marseilles last Wednesday and to have sunk.

48th Highlanders, R.C.R. Lead Canadian Advance

1st Division Drives 60 Miles; Gunners Batter Way; Tanks Follow

By WILLIAM STEWART
WITH CANADIAN FORCES
IN ITALY (CP)—The Royal Canadian Regiment and the 48th Highlanders shouldered the major share of the fighting in a 60-mile advance made by the Canadian 1st Division since it captured Motta, 25 miles west of Foggia, three weeks ago.

Troops from these two Ontario regiments participated in capture of important sectors of two big river lines, and also took part in the final drive for one of southern Italy's key centres, capture of which was announced last week.

(This was presumably a reference to the town of Torrella Del Sannio, fall of which was announced last week at about the same time that the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment took Motta. The three battalions make up the 1st Brigade of Gen. Guy Simmons' Canadian 1st Division.)

The infantry battalions were supported throughout the march by Canadian tanks, some of which were dispatched to a sector occupied by British troops of the 8th Army and performed outstandingly.

(Canadian troops form the left wing of the 8th Army and according to latest reports are astride the Bolano-Isernia highway as well as in the mountains north-west of that important road.)

DODGE MINED ROADS

The Canadian-managed Sherman tanks proved their durability in the push through the mountains, rolling with the forward troops who have avoided roads not only because they are mined, but also because German artillery and mortars are constantly trained on them.

Sweating, toiling gunners beat a way through the Apennine mountains for the Canadian forces in their difficult three-week advance.

The German positions around Motta, 25 miles west of Foggia, were the first target in the Canadian drive into the hills and from then on the gunners feeding 25 pounds and heavier 5.5's got little rest.

As the Canadians moved deeper into the range of high peaks, enemy artillery strength was found to be the greatest since the Canadians made their initial landing. On the last stages of the advance, a gun duel between the German guns and an artillery group commanded by a brigadier from Toronto raged.

Air observation officers, who flitted over the battlefield in tiny aircraft, brought down fire on a record number of 100 targets in a week. These officers, all trained gunners, used hill-tops, valleys and riverbeds for landing.

Casualties among Canadian gunners were slight.

On many occasions the men behind the guns worked in drenching rain and mud. They moved their guns forward from one position to another in short hops to keep up with the infantry, and that meant lots of digging.

SOCIAL ENEMY

Until poverty and fear of want have been abolished from the earth for ever by the people, all our efforts will spell defeat, not real lasting victory.

C. WALKDEN.

RESENTS THE IMPLICATION

I feel I cannot allow the implied slur on the young men of our fighting services, made at a meeting of the Local Council of Women, as reported in Tuesday's Times, to go unchallenged. The secretary of this society, in replying to a comment regarding wives following their soldier husbands and thus causing overcrowding in our cities, is reported to have stated: "What a great help it was to the morale of our men to have their wives and families with them, keeping the boys living clean, decent lives." As the mother of two sons, both of whom are in the army serving overseas, I resent the inference that Canadian youth cannot go to some distant city without immediately forgetting both their wives and their obligations.

We are also to infer from this lady's remarks that Canadian mothers have so failed in their duty as to have brought up sons of the weak moral fibre she would have us imagine. Many copies of the Victoria Times are sent to our boys overseas, and it is neither fair nor just, both to them and their absent wives, to read what some people at home seem only too anxious to spread around about the conduct and character of our fighting men. Personally I prefer to think with the commander of the Canadian Corps, who recently stated that our youth today is the very best and finest this Dominion has ever produced, and has a keen sense of its responsibilities.

Your correspondent, Mr. M. E. Bird of Patricia Bay, seems to be greatly concerned about the millions of starving, illiterate masses in India, with their pitiful pleading eyes.

As he is apparently ignorant of the facts about India that are known to most people, he would do better to spend his time concerning himself about the Indians on Vancouver Island and their illiterate state, the scandalous conditions under which the Canadian government force them to live, the semi-starvation of their old people.

Within a stone's throw of where he lives he will find enough pleading-eyed children in the Indian Reserve for him to worry about. Has he ever done anything for them? Has he ever concerned himself about those Indian families that are living in hovels with leaky roofs, without sanitation and without any proper water supply?

Before he dares to criticize the British government for its handling of affairs in a country that he has never been in, let him inquire into the way the government of his own country treats the Indians who live at his very gates. He might find that he could do plenty to help them.

Russians Hurl Nazi Divisions Back Along Choked Roads

By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—The Germans were reeling back in confusion today along choked retreat roads above the Crimea as the Russians' 4th Ukraine Army battered its way to within eight miles of the last rail exit from the peninsula.

With the Russians driving toward the Crimea over a broad front, it now is impossible for the Germans to evacuate large forces any longer by the only railway, which runs up the Perekop Isthmus, only four miles wide at its narrowest point, to Kherison on the lower Dnieper River.

SHELL RAILWAY

The railway, which the Russians brought within easy artillery range Sunday with the capture of Chaplinka, has become virtually useless to the Germans as a line of communication by day and in another 24 hours should be severed.

Nazi troop concentrations and transport columns attempting to flee the death trap were being pounded endlessly by the Russian Air Force.

Seizure of Novo Troitskoe also gave the Red Army strong central positions for operations westward toward the Perekop-Kherison.

Russian forces storming into Novo-Alexeyevka, about 40 miles east of the Perekop land bridge, had already cut the only other railway line leading out of the Crimea, and the capture of more than 200 settlements between the Dnieper and the Crimea put the Red Army virtually in possession of the entire Nogaish steppe.

LINE BROKEN

It is questionable how desperate a defence the Nazis can put up for the Crimea. They had a strong defence line from Zaporozhe through Melitopol to the Sea of Azov, but the Russians cracked

it. The Germans had prepared for this by erecting lighter, but impressive, lines behind this one. It too, fell and with its crumbling the Red Army ran roughshod over the fleeing Germans.

("Fast Soviet units" have broken through German lines south of the lower Dnieper, the German high command acknowledged today. The broadcast communique claimed, however, that flank attacks by German mobile units inflicted severe losses on the Russians, while German counterattacks made good progress in the Dnieper bend.)

YOUR VICTORY BOND

Let those of us who have done our "Bit" in the 5th Victory Loan reconsider the matter and now do our "BEST."

"Do You Mean . . . My Dad?"

A name on a casualty list—so cold and impersonal—yet to the families who receive the official telegrams saying that one of their loved ones was killed in action, it means the anguish of bereavement, the tears and heartbreak of loss by death.

If you can shorten this war by one day—even an hour—there will be fewer brave men killed, fewer homes left mourning their fathers and their sons. IT IS IN YOUR POWER—it is squarely before every man and woman in Victoria today!

Your purchase of Victory Bonds will bring the day of victory closer—they are not only an investment for purchasing guns, but also an investment beyond value in humanity—the bond you buy may mean one less little boy or girl asking—bewildered and stunned—"You mean . . . my Dad?"

Formula On Germany

BARON VANSITTART, FORMER CHIEF diplomatic adviser to the Foreign Office in London, is one of the few men in the world who has developed a formula for the treatment of Germany after the war. He has put it in a book, "Lessons of My Life," published on the eve of the Moscow conference which is closing today.

Vansittart advocates a "prolonged and effective occupation of Germany" by the United Nations to continue for 50 years or so. He holds that the Prussian militarism which often is cited as the root of Germany's position as a menace is not the monopoly of militarism in Prussia, but is spread through all Germany. His proposals for stern treatment have stirred the antipathy of many persons who hold the view that severity will only nurture another German wish for revenge. He has inspired the coinage of a word, "Vansittartism," which means the advocacy of stringent measures for dealing with the Nazis. He offers his cures not as medicines for revenge, but to bring out the best of Germany, which he says has been overwhelmed by the world-shaking evil ambitions of the Hohenzollerns and Hitler.

Prime Minister Churchill is said to disagree with the Vansittart proposals. Mr. Churchill is reported to feel that the root of the German menace lies in the old duo—Prussian militarism and Nazi leaders. Thus he acquiesces in the move by the Russians in establishing a Free Germany Committee. Stalin has made it plain that he, too, takes a calm view of the Germans. In his speech of Feb. 23, 1942, he said: "It would be ridiculous to identify Hitler's clique with the German people and the German state. History shows that Hitler came and go, but the German people and the German state remain."

Most United Nations leaders have stressed at some time or other the need for controlling Germany. Much of the thought on this subject has run on the line of subjecting Germany to certain controls, more or less as an individual prisoner is put on parole. Walter Nash, the Minister from New Zealand to United States, has urged the advisability of building the world after the war in a way that will fit Germany into the community of nations as a peaceful member. Raymond Geist of the U.S. State Department, who was at the American Embassy in Berlin from 1929 to 1939, and therefore should know a little about Germany, has pronounced the idea that Hitlerism was the product of more than a century of development in German political, social and civil life. He implies the need for complete reorganization of German life in order "to lay the foundations for the advent of freedom among the German people." He may thus be put down as supporting in a general way the Vansittart formula.

Fewer are the leaders who have studied the problem of how to handle Germany after the war, however, than those who have said that a problem exists. It will be the dominating problem, of course, once the military issue is settled to our satisfaction, and on its solution will depend the future stability of Europe.

Russian Steamroller

SOVIET FORCES CONTINUE THEIR pressure to bottle up the Crimea and the large German forces on the peninsula. The railway line running up the narrow Perekop Isthmus is now under Russian artillery fire. It is the last rail exit from the peninsula death trap, where Nazi troop concentrations and transport columns are being pounded endlessly by the Red Air Force as they try to escape. Success in this campaign will free the Black Sea for the Soviet fleet and make possible an increased flow of outside supplies to enable the Soviet armies to continue their sweep westward across the Ukraine and Bessarabia.

Recovery of the Crimea will be one of the great Russian triumphs of the war. But it will be the result of only one of a series of progressively devastating blows which the Russians are delivering against Hitler's shaken forces. The next may now come in the north where behind the long-silent Leningrad front the Russians are reported to have been assembling vast quantities of ammunition, tanks, men, planes and food. It may well be the offensive to sweep the Nazis completely out of Russia. Already snow probably is drifting through the streets of Leningrad, and the marshes that extend far south of the city are thickening under cold north winds. Early this month the ground should be frozen almost a foot down, and Russian tanks will be able to roll over areas impassable in summer. The Leningrad front is the easiest of all to supply. Lend-Lease goods come directly down from Murmansk, which, with six months of winter darkness for protection, will step back into its spot as No. 1 convoy destination. This haul is much shorter than the summer route up from the Persian Gulf.

Once west of the main north-south railway from Leningrad, the Russians will have the advantage the Germans previously held—being able to shift troops and supplies rapidly to meet unexpected resistance or counterattacks.

A German retreat along the whole northern front is certain once the Russians start their steamroller. The Nazis have prepared a defensive line from Narva, in Estonia, running west around Lake Peipus to Pskov and on down to Minsk, Zhitomir and Odessa in the far south. The upper segment of this line may be shattered by the Russians driving through the Vitebsk gateway (the reverse route used by the Nazis to break into Russia) and on to the capture of the key bastion of Minsk.

Abandoning the Baltic States in a great wheeling retreat, pivoting west of Minsk, the Germans would then have to make a stand on the Polish Bug river, less than 300 miles from Germany itself.

In the south, the Russian Bug river might stop the victorious Russians from pouring through the broken Dnieper line, but if this failed the Nazis would set up a last-ditch defence behind the Dniester, on the Rumanian border. Reports that the Germans are fortifying the Rumanian-Bulgarian sea coast indicate they expect an offensive (possibly combined Soviet-British) aimed at the vital Rumanian oil fields. Already pretty wobbly, these Balkan countries might quit cold when the Russians get closer.

'Non'

HERE IS SOMETHING NEW IN THE way of political platforms. Most parties are "for" certain policies. The Bloc reverses this tradition, takes its stand "against" policies. Premier King before the National Liberal Federation recently said Le Bloc was "the only party I ever heard of whose platform and policies are contained in the single word 'Non'." This summing up was confirmed by Maxime Raymond, leader of the Bloc, in his radio speech outlining the party's platform. The Montreal Gazette lists the platform planks as follows:

Does Le Bloc want Canada to remain in the British Commonwealth? "Non."

Does Le Bloc want compulsory service? "Non."

Does Le Bloc want us in the war at all? "Non."

Does Le Bloc want a British Governor-General? "Non."

Does Le Bloc like our present Canadian constitution? "Non."

But has Le Bloc any precise suggestions for its improvement? "Non."

Does Le Bloc want foreign capital in Canada? "Non."

Does Le Bloc want immigration to swell our population? "Non."

Does Le Bloc believe it commands the support of Quebec? The plebiscite's 934,999 "Nons" all say "Oui," says Maxime Raymond.

Is Raymond right? Today, no one can say with certainty as to Quebec. But outside that province, the answer to that question, too, will be "Non."

Progressive Destruction

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT EXPRESSES agreement with General MacArthur that the war against Japan cannot be won by island-hopping. This is the confirmed opinion of almost all the more intelligent military and naval leaders. Lieut.-Col. Frederick S. Wildman, one of the top men in planning our neighbor's air offensive, says that Japan can be defeated most quickly by progressive destruction from the air of critical industrial, economic and military targets, accompanied by continued attrition of Japanese shipping, already strained in the effort to maintain overstretched supply lines. This viewpoint is the most acceptable because it involves a minimum cost in American lives and those of our Allies.

The Japs probably do not have enough bases, if the Allies took them all, to handle the bombing operation by which their homeland will be softened for the kill. "So we must capture, and build, while we prepare planes and pilots and bombs to go to work on Tokyo. It may be a long time before we are ready." When that time comes, the devastation that will be wrought probably will have been unparalleled in air war history.

A Juicy Tale

THE WASHINGTON STAR HAS AN article telling of the nerve displayed by British engineers at Brindisi. It seems that before pulling out of this Italian port, the Germans had wrecked all power plants, rendering the docks useless to the British. Weeks, it seemed, might have to elapse before electrical equipment could be brought in and the vital juice manufactured. Then it was the British engineers got their brilliant idea. Unobtrusively they slithered about the countryside, making deft connections here and there, and in jig time the docks were humming and the lights went on all over the Italian heel. Meanwhile, 70 miles farther up the boot, at Bari, the Nazi supermen were busily operating their own power plant, blissfully unaware of the fact that they were committing the military crime of giving power to the enemy and that they were generating jolts, not volts, for their own war effort. It was almost in sadness that the British later took Bari and put an end to one of the most remarkable current events of the war.

"I think I've had my fling at politics," ex-Premier Mitchell Hepburn tells an Ottawa Journal reporter, "but I'll be out fighting for Mr. Bracken at the next election, make no mistake about that." Editorially commenting on this, the Journal says: "Maybe that won't be so good for Mr. Bracken, if one were to judge by what happened to Hon. Arthur Meighen. Mr. Hepburn came out to support Mr. Meighen in that by-election in South York last year; and Mr. Meighen was defeated."

DIPLOMAT ON BICYCLE
THE AZORES pact with Portugal brought the public eye to bear on the professional diplomat who put it across, a man of 36 who rides to the Foreign Office on a bicycle and gets home so late that the maid quit and left his Egyptian wife to do the housework.

It brought Frank K. Roberts out of obscurity and put him and his bicycle on London's front pages as the head of the Foreign Office central department who tolled eight weeks in Lisbon to obtain for the Allies a strategic Atlantic outpost to fight the U-boat.

His wife, daughter of Sir Said Shoucair Paasha, former financial adviser to the Sudan government, describes their life since their marriage in 1937 as "a continual series of diplomatic crises."

Roberts works from 9.30 a.m. to 8.30 p.m., brings home his papers and works long into the night. He gets one Sunday off a month. They have had two holidays in six years, seldom attend the theatre or cinema.

The Azores pact brought monetary attention, too, to the new Portuguese ambassador, the Duke of Palmella. His first visit to the House of Commons came the day Prime Minister Churchill announced the agreement.

He was shaken when members broke into laughter shortly after the Prime Minister started speaking. The M.P.'s with no reverence for history, were tickled at the reference to the original Anglo-Portuguese treaty signed in 1373.

The puzzled Duke was relieved when their attitude changed to one of warm cheers.

LAND SHARKS

THE GOVERNMENT HAS WRECKED speculators' hopes of making millions of pounds in the sale of bombed sites. Its findings on committee proposals are nearly ready for presentation and will accept the principles of public acquisition of all land in reconstruction areas and compensation to landowners at the values of March, 1939. Land "sharks" have been reported busy throughout the country, buying up prospective building sites in the hope of selling them at inflated prices.

WHAT ARE THEY SAYING

LORD BENNETT: "My confidence in Nazis, Germans of any kind, refugee or otherwise, is not very great. We should beware of so-called good people who suddenly see the light."

Prime Minister Churchill, getting involved in figures during the coal debate: "Neither I nor my father was ever any good at decimals." That recalled Lord Randolph Churchill's famous query as an intricate budget was explained to him: "What is the meaning of those damned dots?"

PEOPLE

LORD BEAVERBROOK was reminded by dissatisfaction with an obituary that he had never seen his own. "We," explained a Daily Express editor, "have never even considered your death as an eventuality." That so pleased "the Beaver" that his remarks about the paper next day were the most flattering in weeks.

London was pleased with Australia's appointment for a year of Stanley Bruce as her high commissioner. There had been speculation that the Labor Prime Minister, John Curtin, would recall a man of opposing political faith. A former Prime Minister, Bruce has been here 10 years. He acts as Australian representative in the war cabinet.

Eight M.P.'s have given notice of a motion urging an early government statement on postwar agricultural policy. They feel that a declaration by Agricultural Minister R. S. Hudson that he had no authority to speak on the subject might create an impression farming will be allowed to deteriorate after the war.

SEEMED SMALL TO CANADIAN

From Manchester Guardian
The story of the Cumbrian who could not understand why people came to the lake district, as there was "nowt to see but hills and wood and water," has long been current jesting. Such jokers, however, might not take kindly to the following true comment: A Canadian stationed in this country made what was, to him, quite a normal journey of some 200 miles to see the famous English lake district. After lunch he had little more than four hours in which to "do" the district. A friend managed to show him the greater part of one of the loveliest valleys by getting lifts from point to point in tradesmen's vans. He saw two lakes and helped to unload the week's beer supply at a famous climbers' inn. He walked through the woods and lower falls of an early acquisition of the National Trust and delivered groceries at several farms. Eventually, in order to catch his train, he had to accept a lift and leave his friend behind. He had tea with the friend's parents, and just before he left for the station they asked him what he thought about the English lake district. "Grand," he said. "It'd make a wonderful golf course."

SINCERITY

"Sincerity and truth are the basis of every virtue."—Confucius.
"A deep sincerity is sure of success, for God takes care of it."—Mary Baker Eddy.

"Nothing more completely baffles one who is full of trick and duplicity, than straightforward and simple integrity in another."—Colton.

"Sincerity is impossible unless it pervades the whole being, and the pretense of it saps the very foundation of character."—James Russell Lowell.

This is the long, long trail that the British 8th Army has traveled in a year, from Egypt almost to within sight of Rome. Backed against Suez in October, 1942, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's fighters cracked the Nazi line with a heavy attack outside El Alamein, and didn't halt in their pursuit of Rommel's Afrika Korps until they were in Tunis. Later the 8th Army took one of the heaviest sides of the fighting in Sicily and was the first to invade Italy.

NORTH-SOUTH TREND

PORTENTS of closer relations between Canada and South America after the war, have been coming thick and fast. Chile seems particularly interested in the Dominion. Only this week a group of state police came here on an inspection trip, and a Chilean senator, Elicodoro Dominguez, came here unofficially.

Brazil is also proving an increasingly good market for Canadian goods, Jean Desy, Canadian minister to Rio de Janeiro, reports here.

None of the visitors has given any specific reason for the growing interest in Canada in South American countries. Perhaps the fact our fish and other natural products fit into their import picture nicely—and it is just possible that the fact the size of Canada's population is nearer their own makes them think it will be easier to deal with the Dominion than with the overshadowing United States.

I'M FINDING WAYS TO MAKE COFFEE GO FURTHER

FIRST—I've learned to buy coffee that gives me more flavor ounce for ounce: i.e. Chase & Sanborn Coffee. It's super-rich!

And I make sure the coffee container is air-tight—that the coffee-pot is scoured clean. Of course, I measure the coffee and water accurately for exact strength—and I make not one bit more than the amount I need. And I serve coffee as soon as I can after it's made.

But my best rule, I think, is that first one: Get Chase & Sanborn Coffee. And, remember, quality coffee goes further.

Can Applesauce Now!

Now the rush of canning is over, it's a good idea to put up a dozen or so jars of applesauce

1. An apple a day keeps the doctor away... besides which applesauce is always a welcome pepper-upper for wartime meals. So, have you considered the wisdom of canning some applesauce to have ready for use at a moment's notice. It's easy and the cost per jar is modest. Serve with veal, lamb or pork... as a spread for bread or toast... as a filling for pies or, chilled, with cake or cookies, for an appetizing dessert.
2. CANNED APPLESAUCE
3. Make up your very best applesauce—adding a little ground cinnamon, a few cloves, shaved lemon rind or a little grated nutmeg, if you desire.
4. Fill boiling applesauce into hot sterilized jars. (As each jar is filled complete points 3, 4 and 5 before proceeding with next jar.)
5. Adjust rubber ring (which has been standing for 5 minutes in boiling water).
6. Stir applesauce in jar with a sterilized fork to let any air-bubbles escape.
7. Put on sterilized glass top and metal top (which has stood 5 minutes in boiling water); tighten screw-top, then loosen half a turn. On spring-type jars, close one spring only.
8. Process in boiling water bath (water 2 inches above top of jars) 10 minutes for pints, 15 minutes for quarts (counting time only from moment water around jars boils, actively). Or process in automatically-controlled oven, at 275°, 15 minutes for pints, 25 minutes for quarts.
9. Remove jars and complete seal. (Never open jars to fill them up, or tighten screw again after cooling.)
10. Test for leaks, and store in cool, dry, dark place.

Beat German Army Even If Hitler Out, Declare Americans

PRINCETON, N.J. — What would the reaction of the American people be if the German army were to get rid of Hitler, give up the conquered countries, withdraw behind the borders of Germany and offer to make peace?

The question, which is of growing significance as the German forces fall back in Russia and in Italy and peace rumors surround the Moscow conference, presents a hard choice between saving the lives of many of our soldiers by making a negotiated peace, or invading Germany proper until the army of the Reich is utterly destroyed.

If the question were left to the American people to decide, the overwhelming weight of opinion today would be to give no quarter to the German army—to ignore all peace offers, however attractive, until the military forces of the Reich are crushed.

This sentiment is revealed in a nationwide survey among men and women in all the 48 states on the following question:

"Suppose the German army gets rid of Hitler, gives up all the countries Germany has conquered and offers to make peace. If that happens, should we make peace, or should we continue the war until the German army is completely defeated?"

The vote is: Make peace if German army gives up conquered lands, 24 per cent; continue fighting until German army is crushed, 70 per cent; undecided, 6 per cent.

WOMEN MORE PACIFISTIC

Students of our national psychology will be especially interested in the difference in attitude among men and women on the question of making peace if the German army gives up its territorial claims and ousts Hitler.

American women interviewed in the survey are far more willing to accept the idea of such a peace than are American men. The greater pacifistic tendencies of women as compared to men were noted in surveys before we entered the war, but never to quite the extent that is shown below:

Make peace if German army gives up conquered lands	Men	Women
Continue fighting until German army is defeated	19%	38%
Undecided	7%	6%

The principal reason given by the majority for crushing the German army is the feeling that "we made the mistake of not finishing the job in 1918."

Americans reject by an even higher majority the idea that Germany should be allowed to make peace on the basis of maintaining her present territorial position in Europe. Such a plan got voted down 10 to 1 in a recent survey.

Max Reinhardt Dies in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Max Reinhardt, 70, noted theatrical producer, died Sunday in his hotel apartment here.

He suffered a stroke three weeks ago while he was engaged in producing "La Belle Helene." Pneumonia developed about 72 hours before his death.

With the producer were his wife, the Austrian actress, Helene Thring, who flew here from California a week ago, and two sons, Gottfried, former Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer producer, now a signal corps sergeant, and Wolfgang, a Warner Brothers producer, who also flew here from Hollywood.

Reinhardt, among whose recent stage successes was the operetta "Rosalinda," observed his 70th birthday last Sept. 9.

(Mr. Reinhardt visited Victoria for several days in May, 1938. He came here after making a broadcast from Hollywood.)

Winnipegger Heads 6th Division Artillery

OTTAWA (CP)—Appointment of Brig. T. H. Musgrave, 50 of Winnipeg, as senior artillery officer of the reconstituted 6th Division, which is serving on constant defence duty in Canada, was announced Sunday night by defence headquarters.

Brig. Musgrave, whose appointment is effective immediately, was recently with a formation in Canada the disbandment of which was announced by Defence Minister Ralston Sept. 13. He served in the ranks in the First Great War, winning his commission in the field in 1916, and was a captain at demobilization.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: We have been married nine years and have a son, almost eight, who has brought great happiness to our home. I have a good job. We own a nice home and have every reasonable comfort. I have been very happy with my wife and boy and thought she was happy, too, until all of a sudden she tells me that she has fallen in love with a boy who is 20 years old.

She wants me to give her a divorce so she can marry this boy who isn't old enough to know what he is doing I don't want my home broken up and my child's future jeopardized, so can you please advise me what I can possibly do to make my wife see what a mistake she is making?

A HEARTBROKEN MAN

Answer: Any woman who wants to give up a good husband and home and her child to marry a boy of 20 needs the attention of an alienist. Something is wrong with her mind. It is impossible for you to do anything with her, but you can do a lot with the boy if you will go about it in the right way.

Get the other boys who pal around with this lad to teasing him about marrying his grandmother. If they can get him to see himself as a figure of fun instead of a romantic lover, he will drop her.

But probably the war will solve your problem. Your wife can't marry as long as you won't give her a divorce, and by the time the boy gets through serving in the army he will have forgotten all about his attack of calf love.

Red Cross Builds Big Reserve Here, Says E. W. Hamber

Preparations for all eventualities—whether possible nuisance raids or engagements in war, when Pacific coast ports would be crowded, and casualties of every kind needing attention, was urged upon women Red Cross workers, by Hon. E. W. Hamber, provincial president of the Canadian Red Cross Society, Saturday afternoon, when he officially opened the new Red Cross Workrooms at 1010 Government Street.

"We are storing up on the Pacific coast a big reserve of material and we must conserve; we must have supplies," Mr. Hamber told the more than 250 men and women who gathered for the opening.

"We do not know what will be the immediate requirements on the Pacific coast, from Mexico to Alaska," he said, but spoke of the need to be able to meet any possible nuisance raids or "engagements in war."

Women war workers in British Columbia number 25,000 and have done wonderful work, but more and more workers are needed, he said, emphasizing that the volume of work had to be increased. There are 98 Red Cross branches throughout the province, he said in his address, and urged women to take nursing and first aid courses.

"The disaster and relief department must carry on and be ready; there are 25 hospital emergency units in readiness and eight mobile surgical units. The Canadian Red Cross Corps numbers 850 members with a reserve of 1,600," he said. "There are 100,000 parcels going overseas from funds subscribed in B.C."

W. Morton Paterson, president of the Victoria and District Red Cross Society, was chairman, and Miss Honor Nash, newly-elected chairman of the women's work committee, spoke briefly.

Mrs. L. Grimison and Mrs. Stewart G. Clark direct the city unit; Mrs. Grigg and Mrs. J. J. Rust, wool department; Mrs. M. A. Ousterhout and Mrs. L. Miller, assisted by Mrs. R. Kerr, Mrs. Braid and Mrs. Oliver, refugee department; Mrs. Charles Williams, assisted by Mrs. F. A. Brown, Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Howe, hospital supplies; Mrs. S. G. Caye, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Carle, surgical supply department; Mrs. William Leal, assisted by Mrs. L. S. V. York and Mrs. A. E. Ackland, surgical dressings; Lady Lake, Mrs. Charles Conyers, Mrs. Scharrf and Mrs. J. W. Duncan Jr., Red Cross department; Mrs. A. M. Woodroffe, assisted by Mrs. Beattall, shipping department, and Mrs. D. A. Thistle, disaster relief clothing department. Mrs. H. S. Orange Skull-Caps Needed for Seamen

In a report from the Missions to Seamen Headquarters, London, Miss B. D. Gardiner, knitting secretary, states that men who have been torpedoed have found that grey or navy caps and helmets do not show up easily when they are in the water waiting to be rescued, so that they have asked if we could arrange to supply them with skull-caps made of orange wool. This color can be seen more easily by rescue ships and aircraft.

The skull-cap is needed now instead of balacava helmets. In Victoria if enough orange wool cannot be obtained, yellow wool might do in its stead. The skull-cap should be deep enough to have a little slack so that it can be pulled well down over the head and ears.

It will be of interest to workers to know that for some months all canvas gear in ship's lifeboats and rafts has been colored yellow in order that rescue ships and aircraft can spot these small spots from a distance. In some cases the insides of lifeboats have been painted yellow so that aircraft can see them at once from great heights.

Islanders Win Wings

Clayton S. Grant, Campbell River, left, and Patrick J. Flannigan, 3408 Maplewood Road, Victoria, who graduated as sergeant-pilots Thursday at No. 7, S.F.T.S., Macleod, Alta. Flannigan was formerly a member of the C.M.S.C., Pacific Command, Canadian army, Victoria. Grant is the grandson of Maj. Fred Richardson, O.B.E., noted rifle shot and Bisley winner, with whom he is now spending his leave.

Island Labor Group Supports Miners

The Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference today wired Ottawa protesting the attitude of the Dominion government in handling the coal situation in B.C. and Alberta, and calling on federal authorities to see that just claims of the miners are met.

That action followed a meeting of the conference Sunday night at which the issue was canvassed generally and mention was made of the hardships that would follow if the men left the mines.

During the meeting the delegates received information to the effect a system might be established to use military and service doctors at the Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospitals to handle civilian cases if the necessity arose. Use of medical men in the army for such cases had been asked by the conference in a letter to the College of Physicians and Surgeons. Dr. A. J. McLachlan, registrar, replied: "This plan has now been arranged."

The delegates heard a report from C. Chivers on the recent meeting of the transportation committee and on a meeting of the advisory board of Selective Service. At the latter he sponsored a resolution to the effect the National Demobilization and Rehabilitation Board has failed and admitted failure by not being able to present any definite ideas on rehabilitation other than sponsoring ideas favoring one group against another. Emphasis was laid at the meeting on the necessity of members of the forces and labor standing shoulder to shoulder when hostilities end for the betterment of the people of Canada.

WANT PSYCHIATRIST

The conference decided to ask the B.C. Department of Health to have a full-time psychiatrist located in Victoria to provide treatment for people in this area.

Investigation of women by Selective Service to determine whether or not they are mothers of children who will receive adequate care if the parent works was advocated in another resolution. Concern was expressed over the possibility small children might suffer unless sufficient provision were made for them. Delegates noted organized labor had consistently pressed for establishment of day nurseries in this area for the last two years.

Publication of ceiling prices for fuel in the near future was forecast by W. C. Marshall in a report on the fuel committee's recent deliberations.

Appointment of two labor representatives on the board of Jubilee Hospital will be requested.

Use of troops at the Shawinigan labor trouble, to intimidate workers and break strikes, was protested in another motion. Inquiries will be launched by wire seeking information on the reported arrest of two A.F. of L. organizers at Shawinigan Falls.

The conference, viewing the lifting of the dimout as an indication of improved war conditions here, protested the use of chlorination equipment on the city's water supply.

Russell Nathan, U.S. director of organization for the Retail Clerks Union and general A.F. of L. organizer, was a visitor at the meeting.

Allies Need Ships, Says British M.P.

SEATTLE (AP)—James Griffiths, labor member of the British parliament from South Wales, asserted here Sunday that production of ship is now more important to the war effort than the output of airplanes.

"Allied aircraft production has so surpassed that of the enemy," he said in a forum address, "that we now have an air umbrella so large that we do not have enough ships to fit under it."

"Lack of ships is the reason the war with Japan is not being prosecuted more vigorously," Mr. Griffiths, touring United States studying manpower methods and plans for return to peacetime economy, will stay in Seattle a week, addressing various groups and visiting shipbuilding and airplane plants.

Books for Barracks

Reading matter is essential for hours off duty. The Salvage Corps wants EVERY Book and Magazine of ANY AGE—in ANY CONDITION.

We keep the ones suitable for the Forces and Mariners for distribution by the I.O.D.E. We prepare the rest for the paper mill, to be reborn as insulation for Barracks, for Roofing, for Shell cases, for Cardboard boxes to pack Munitions, for new Paper stock.

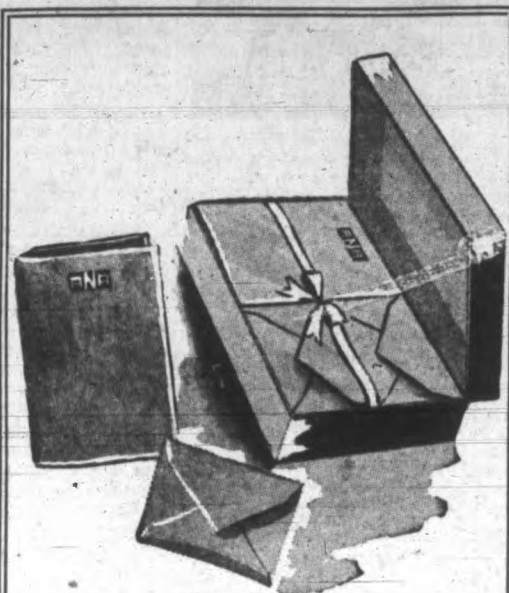

Bring a few books a day to this office—give them to our trucks—keep them for when we can call—we are planning a new drive to get all magazines and books.

Reside's Goal Decides

Alan Reside's goal, late in the second half, gave the Victoria Machinery Depot a 1 to 0 victory over the R.C.A.F. in Saturday's first division soccer match. Win moved the shipbuilders into second place, two points back of the undefeated league-leading R.A.F.

Airmen put up a bitter struggle against the favored V.M.D. outfit and the goal which beat them came during a scramble in front of the R.C.A.F. goal, with Reside heading the ball into the net off one of the upstarts.

Star of the afternoon was Norm Baker in goal for the R.C.A.F. Famous for his feats on the basketball and lacrosse courts, Baker gave a brilliant exhibition between the posts. Time after time he blocked what looked like sure goals and it was through no fault of his the Flyers were beaten. The airmen trotted out a strong team defensively, but the club was pitifully weak on the offense. Their forwards displayed a tendency to try and walk the ball into the net instead of shooting when an opportunity presented itself.

On the other hand the V.M.D. were lucky to win. They showed little punch up front with George Payne and Alvin Parks, their two big scoring threats, passing up many chances. The shipbuilders failed to open up the play to their wings, faltering time after time in attempts to sweep the ball through the middle.

Army Hockey Team Smart in Preview

NANAIMO (CP)—Serving up 60 minutes of pleasing, fast exhibition hockey, Pacific Command puckchasers, split into two opposing units, battled out a 5 to 5, per-season tie Saturday night before a crowd of more than 1,200 fans. Reds were under the coaching of Nick Metz. Bill Carse led the Blues.

Ex-Toronto Maple Leaf star, Nick Metz, bagged a pair for the Reds as did Jimmy McIndoe, former Lethbridge Maple Leaf and Flin Flon Bomber ace. Fifth counter went to Mel Lundie with Pinky Melnyk getting the helper. Sids Sutherland was credited with an assist on McIndoe's second goal.

Navy's Chuck Raynor was in goal for the Blues.

Mac Coville Named Coach of Army Club

CALGARY (CP)—Selection of Matthew (Mac) Coville as coach of A-20 Canadian Army Service Corps Training Centre team of the Alberta Services Senior Hockey League, was announced here Sunday by Lieut. John Taylor, manager.

All four teams of the league have started training. Members of the Red Deer club arrived in the city Sunday and are quartered at Mewata Barracks, where they will undergo rigid army training during their two weeks stay.

Bobby Carse and Max Bentley, formerly of Chicago Black Hawks, and Toad Klein, who was with Nanaimo Clippers last winter, are among newcomers with Currie Army team of Calgary. Elmer Piper is the coach.

Marty Burke, coach of the H.M.C.S. Tecumseh Navy team, expects to have 30 players trying out, including Sweeney Schirmer, former Toronto Maple Leaf, and Doug Cairns, ace pivot of Calgary Buffaloes.

Coach Tiny Thompson of R.C.A.F. Mustangs, also of Calgary, will have the two Bertelli brothers, Russ and Bill, formerly of Saskatoon; Alf Kunkel of Regina Rangers and Pete Slobodian, defence star of last year's Lethbridge Bombers, among 25 candidates.

One-sided Scores Mark Rugby

Army, R.A.F. Winners

Army and R.A.F. registered one-sided triumphs in Saturday's Barnard Cup rugby matches at Macdonald Park. Soldiers remained at the head of the standings with their third straight triumph at the expense of the Naval College, 25 to 5, while the R.A.F. steam-rolled the Navy into submission, 30 to 0. The sailors were forced to take the field short-handed.

Next Saturday the Army will bring together the Army and R.A.F. in what should prove the best game of the season to date. Second game will pit the Naval College against the Navy. The last two named fifteens have yet to mark up their first win of the campaign.

Displaying a marked advantage in the loose the Army lost no time taking the lead over the Naval College. Two tries by Smith and a conversion by Peden moved the troops into an 8 to 0 lead. Peden kicked a 25-yard field goal and the score was 12 to 0. Naval College finally moved on the attack and Cockerman plunged across the line. Wood converted and the score was 12 to 5. Gornall's try and Peden's conversion gave the Army a 17 to 5 margin at halftime.

In the second half Cullin and Park added tries for the Army with Peden converting one to make the final count 25 to 5.

R.A.F. had no trouble turning back an inexperienced Navy fifteen. After moving into a 22 to 0 lead in the first half the British airmen added eight points in the final period.

Jeffrey raced over for two tries for the winners, while Splers, Anderson, Harris, Wood and Fortune each contributed one. Anderson kicked three conversions and a penalty goal.

Bertelli Displays Brilliant Passing In Notre Dame Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Navy and marine football players who leave United States college camps within the next few days turned in outstanding performances Saturday.

Angelo Bertelli, headed for marine training base this week, probably gave his best performance in leading Notre Dame to a crushing 33 to 6 triumph over hitherto unbeaten-untied Navy before 82,000 fans. He completed five out of eight passes, three of them for touchdowns, counted the final score for himself and added three extra points.

Unbeaten Army and Pennsylvania failed to reach a decision in the rain and mud at Philadelphia. They ended up in a 13 to 13 deadlock.

Purdie's Norfolk-bound sailor, Tony Butkovich paced the Boiler-makers to their seventh straight victory, whipping Wisconsin 32 to 0. Bill Daley wound up his playing days for Michigan with two touchdowns and long gains that set up two others in a 42 to 6 rout of Illinois.

Don Buffmire and Herman Frickey, who with eight teammates leave Northwestern's campus next week, were outstanding in the Wildcats' 42 to 6 whipping of Minnesota's Gophers.

Southern California in the southern division of the Pacific Coast League clinched a Rose Bowl spot by beating California for the second time this year, 13 to 0, and remaining unbeaten, untied and unscored on in six straight games this year.

Varsity Scores Easy Cup Rugby Victory

VANCOUVER (CP)—Five hundred spectators watched Varsity walk over Vancouver Reps by a 16 to 6 score in the opening game of the McKeechle Cup rugby competition played Saturday.

The students showed all the old U.B.C. fight and were the better team throughout. On the other hand the losers failed to provide opposition good enough to make the display one which could be called entertaining rugby.

Frank Alvaro was the only man on the Rep team to show good form—he gave a first-class exhibition of forward play. Jack Wright, usually dependable kicker, had an off day and missed three or four penalty attempts.

Sports Mirror

By PÉTE SALLAWAY

THERE'S another Horatio Alger story come up in the boxing world. We note where Sammy Angott, the lad who is expected to straighten up the lightweight mess following his smashing triumph over Sluggo White the other night in Los Angeles, will travel east to fight Bobby Ruffin the night of Nov. 29. Ruffin is the chap who stepped into the ring at Madison Square Garden as a substitute and pinned back the ears of jumping Beau Jack. This was just another instance of a substitute rising up to really push over the dope bucket.

There was the time George Chip, proud holder of the middleweight championship, found himself facing a set-up substitute, one Al McCoy, a therefore ham andegger southpaw, in a Brooklyn ring back in 1914. The set-up turned into a startling upset, for at the clang of the gong the bewildered McCoy started up from his stool, his left hand swinging at the same time. Chip's chin got in the way of the punch, and before anyone knew it, the middleweight champion was being counted out and a new champion was crowned.

Going a few years back it is recalled how on a November night in 1911, Ad Wolgast was matched to meet Freddie Walsh in Los Angeles.

A huge crowd assembled, Welsh entered the ring, but there was no Wolgast. Instead a panting messenger arrived with the news that Ad had been stricken with appendicitis.

Before the groans of disappointment subsided, a young man rose from his seat, climbed into the ring and offered himself as a substitute.

The crowd cheered, the new-comer donned fighting togs, and proceeded to give Welsh the fight of his life for 20 rounds. The volunteer was Willie Ritchie, destined to take the world's title from Ad Wolgast a year later.

Ritchie, like Ruffin, had been fighting a few years and the fight with Welsh paved his way to the championship match.

Ritchie came close to making a habit of volunteering as sub from among the spectators, for he repeated the stunt three months later in Philadelphia, when he stepped into Packey McFarland's shoes, taking Packey's place against Young Ernie in a six-round, and acquitting himself well in a no-decision bout.

The Cinderella man of them all, of course, was Jimmy Braddock, who after being "washed up," was brought back to the ring to enact the role of sacrificial lamb in building up the fistic record of Corn Griffin, a rising young contender for the world's heavyweight crown.

Lamb turned slaughterer, however, for Braddock knocked out Griffin in three rounds, later went on to win the title for himself the following year.

Ruffin's upsetting of top-heavy betting favorite Beau Jack was one more demonstration of the folly of gamblers laying heavy odds against the "under-dog."

Beau Jack was 9 to 1 favorite over Bobby at ringside. Other famous upsets were Max Schmeling in his first fight with Joe Louis, Jimmy Braddock against Max Baer, Tunney against Dempsey in Philadelphia, Billy Petrolle in his first bout with Jimmy McLarnin, Jake McMotta against Ray Robinson and others too numerous to mention, including Bob Montgomery in his tit-winning fight against Beau Jack.

They say gamblers never gamble and it looks as if they never learn from experience.

Toronto Leafs Score Two Straight Wins

Whip Chicago 4-1; Detroit Trims Rangers

Week-end Scores
Toronto 5, Rangers 2
Toronto 4, Chicago 1
Detroit 3, Rangers 3
Canadiens 2, Boston 2

An average of 13,245 fans paid to see four week-end National Hockey League opening games, giving rise to speculation that all attendance records for major professional hockey may be shattered this season.

New York Rangers lost 8 to 2 to Detroit Red Wings Sunday and 5 to 2 Saturday to Toronto Maple Leafs, who demonstrated that the triumph was no fluke by crushing Chicago Black Hawks 4 to 1 in Chicago Sunday. Boston Bruins played Montreal Canadiens to a 2 to 2 deadlock in the Canadian city Saturday to gain a third-place tie with their rivals, one point behind Detroit and three behind Leafs.

At Toronto, Rangers trailed 5 to 0 until Jack McDonald and Dutch Hiller caged third-period shots to prevent a shutout. Leafs struck early in each period, rookie Gus Bodnar scoring 15 seconds after the first face-off and again at 1:41 of the third period after assisting Lorne Carr in the second Toronto tally at 1:16 of the middle session. Jackie Hamilton and Ted (Teeter) Kennedy provided the other Leaf scores.

COSTLY PENALTIES

Grant Warwick and Bryan Hextall, two of New York's five holdovers from last season, took charge of Ranger scoring at Detroit, Warwick sniping twice, but the Wings scored five times while Rangers were short-handed, two of them 22 seconds apart in the second period while Hextall served time. Syd Howe and Mud Brunteau counted twice with single goals going to Joe Carveth, Carl Liscombe, Adam Brown and Bernie Ruelle.

Mel Hill paced Toronto against Chicago, scoring twice in the first period after Bill Mosienko

Internal Nazi Crack-Up May Come At Any Time, Says Halifax

WASHINGTON (CP)—The war in Europe has reached a point where "anything may happen" in Hitler's Germany, says Viscount Halifax, British ambassador to the United States. Back from two months in Britain, the ambassador told newspaper reporters it was perfectly logical to believe today that an internal crack-up in Germany may come any time.

But the diplomat advised everyone to keep his fingers crossed and not to count too heavily on a sudden collapse.

BRITTLE STRUCTURE

Asked to elaborate, he said it must be apparent to many Germans now that they cannot win the war. But the Germans are tough, resourceful fighters and their civilian set-up is a closely geared but perhaps brittle machine.

Lord Halifax declined to hazard a guess whether the German army or the civilian side of Germany will crack first.

He declined to be pinned down to definite dates on the defeat of Germany, but he left a clear impression among the 100 newspapermen who heard him at the British Embassy that he regards the crack-up of Germany to be certain and perhaps more imminent than might be expected.

CONFIDENCE GROWS

The ambassador said he had returned to Washington with many impressions of Britain as she entered the fifth year of war. Some of these were:

1. There is confidence everywhere that the war is reaching a climax without, at the same time, any slackening of effort or will.
2. Consumer goods are short and hard to find, the food wholesome but dull, without variety.
3. Manpower and womanpower have been mobilized to the limit, with women up to 50 conscripted for work. The result is the people are getting tired, feeling the strain, and there has been some labor trouble lately in shipyards and coal mines. But there is little or no grumbling.

The ambassador said he was struck particularly at the moment by the thinking the British people are doing on post-war problems. The development of a U.S. foreign policy is being watched closely.

The British people, he continued, are determined that those who fought together to win the peace shall stick together to enforce it.

TO DISARM AXIS

There can be no disarmament of the victors this time, he suggested, although enemy countries must be disarmed.

Lord Halifax touched on a variety of subjects and answered questions freely. He said:

That he finds himself "in complete agreement" with Wendell Willkie's warning to Britons not to mix in domestic American politics.

That Allied bombings have had a "very considerable effect" on German fighter plane strength.

That there is no disposition in London to change the Allied policy of unconditional surrender. He said he knew of no peace offers from Germany.

That postwar reduction in the size of present day Germany may have been discussed at the British-U.S.-Russian conference at Moscow, but that he was not a proper authority to give out information on that point.

No Increased Rations At Christmas Time

Characterizing as "mere rumor," stories from Ottawa that there was a strong possibility tea and coffee might be taken off the list of rationed goods by Christmas, Victoria officers of the War-time Prices and Trade Board today held out no promises of increased quantities of rationed items for the festive season.

"So far as the Prices Board is concerned the stories of tea and coffee going off the ration list are merely rumor," A. B. Ford, ration officer, said.

When queried on the possibility of more sugar and butter being released at Christmas time to enable housewives to make their Christmas cakes and puddings, he said there was no likelihood of such a move.

"We can say, however, that if adequate reserves of butter are maintained now, there will be no need to reduce the butter ration temporarily in the spring. Butter stocks in storage across the Dominion are 20 per cent. higher now than they were last year."

Beef, Lamb Charts Must Be Displayed

Display charts showing the 20 primary cuts of beef and 16 cuts of lamb, with quality and maximum price ceiling marked, must be hung in the 65 butcher shops throughout the Victoria area, W. A. Hick, meat ration officer, War-time Prices and Trade Board, said today.

"I have been checking up on the different stores and dealers have given us great co-operation," he said.

The beef chart was distributed to meat dealers all across Canada one month ago and the lamb chart, Oct. 18. The charts are, by board ruling, to be placed in a conspicuous spot in the store and customers can, by consulting the chart, know just what is the maximum price according to quality for the cut of meat desired, Mr. Hick said.

"Customers have the right also to demand a sales slip with the cut, and price per pound paid marked on the slip."

The meat must be cut according to the charts for there is now a standard method of cutting, established for the Dominion, he said.

Scoop Fish in Hundreds From Banks of Delaware

MARCUS HOOK, Pa., (AP)—It was a freak of nature, but fisherman's luck, and 200 boys made the most of it.

They used landing nets, coal sieves, bushel baskets, even their hands, to scoop up hundreds of fish marooned in the shallow waters along the banks of the Delaware River here Sunday.

All they did was wade in and slap 'em on to the banks.

Louis Bracanti, 14, claimed the record catch—more than 300.

Opinions differed as to how the fish were stranded. Some believed heavy rains, causing an interchange of fresh and salt water, made them sluggish. Others thought heavy blasting on the Jersey side may have stunned them.

But the boys didn't worry about explanations—they just caught fish.

120 Rings Recovered

City police today had recovered about 120 gold rings of an undetermined number stolen Sunday morning from the window of F. W. Francis, jeweler, 1210 Douglas Street.

The window was smashed at 125 Sunday morning, apparently by two sailors in round rig who were seen rushing from the premises. An automobile crank was used to break the large plate glass window.

Two trays of gold rings were stolen.

Sunday morning Constable

Tom Banister recovered from a vacant lot at 814 1/2 Street 115 gold rings. William Smyth, 1903 Belmont Avenue, later turned in a gold ring he had found on View Street.

Several more rings were found on five American and Canadian soldiers who were questioned at the city police headquarters but later released.

Breaking through a rear window, thieves took $45 from Small's Bakery, 725 Yates Street.

Knocking the dial off a safe at Buckenfield's Ltd., 2100 Douglas Street, thieves escaped with about $50 in cash. The building was entered through a rear window.

Just Usual Pranks Over Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en, which was celebrated here on Saturday and Sunday nights, produced no new tricks, city and municipal police departments reported today.

No serious damage resulted from the festivities, which took the form of stealing gates, breaking fences, dumping over wood piles, turning in false fire alarms, turning on fire hydrants, throwing firecrackers on verandas and putting explosives on street cars.

A fire which did very slight damage was started on a veranda at 1955 St. Ann Street, Oak Bay, by firecrackers.

Rockland Avenue near Pemberton was barricaded. Benches were pulled into Pandora Avenue in the 1400 block.

A false automobile accident was reported in the James Bay district.

In Oak Bay several street signs were pulled down, while several Victoria residents reported their gates stolen and their cars moved.

Mayor Urges Speed In Bond Purchases

Following a letter from J. W.
Spencer, chairman of the National War Finance Committee of Vancouver Island, who pointed out that subscriptions to the Fifth Victory Loan in Victoria are falling far behind their objective, Mayor McGavin today appealed to all citizens who have not yet purchased Victory Bonds to do so immediately.

Mayor McGavin pointed out that the purchase of Victory Bonds is simply a pledge of support to the men on the fighting fronts until victory is won and an acknowledgment of faith in the future of the Dominion. The mayor said Victorians must not fail the men on land, on sea and in the air who are offering their lives on behalf of the people at home.

"The people of Victoria must speed their purchase of Victory Bonds to speed the victory," he said.

Blood-Stained Parcels Shown As Girl Murder Trial Opens

Evidence surrounding the last known movements of Molly Justice and the discovery of two blood-stained packages on the C.N.R. track near Darwin Ave., was presented in Assize Court today as trial of William Mitchell, charged with murdering the 16-year-old girl on the early evening of Jan. 18, opened.

Mitchell sat through the opening phases of the trial impas-sively. A mixed crowd of men and women sat quietly in the gallery, and heard Prosecutor G. A.
Cameron build the early points of his case. Each witness was cross-examined closely by P. J. Sinnott, defence counsel.

After Fred Butterfield, land surveyor, had identified plans he had made of the region near Swan Lake around Darwin Ave.
and the C.N.R. track, Patrick J.
Dunn testified he had ridden with Miss Justice in a Douglas-Ralph bus on the night of Jan. 18. The girl, he said, had two or three parcels in her arms and had left the bus about Seymour St. at 6.05 or 6.10 that evening. As far as he could remember it was not snowing when she left, witness said.

Luther Whittaker, driver of the bus that evening, said he had seen Miss Justice board the bus on Government between Fort and Johnson and knew she had left before he reached University St.
That night she was wearing a plaid coat, he said, adding it was similar to one presented in court.
He described bus schedules on that and similar routes.

Patricia May McAllister and Jean Agnes Reid, Mt. View High School girls, testified they had gone along the railroad track about 6.30 on the night in question and had seen two parcels resting near the rails between the tracks. They did not see anyone in the vicinity as they went to a pond near Swan Lake to skate, but, on the return, saw

Mr. and Mrs. Logie on the track.
The parcels looked as if they had been placed on the track, not thrown there, witnesses said.

Arthur James Logie, Saanich
fireman, and his wife gave evidence to the effect they had been walking in the district and had gone to see the skaters. On the way home, on the railway track,
Mr. Logie said he had seen the parcels. He and his wife had taken them home. In their house, when the lights were turned on,
they had discovered the packages to be covered with blood stains. Mr. Logie testified he had telephoned Sgt. Eric Elwell of the Saanich police, and, with Constable Smith, whom they picked up at the fire hall, had gone to the railway tracks where the parcels had been discovered.

Both he and Mrs. Logie testified they had seen a flare during the evening, like the sudden outbreak of fire, near the foot of Swan Street, but had not been able to locate it.

IRON BUCKET

Mr. Sinnott, in examination of the high school girls and the Logies, sought to learn if any had seen a galvanized iron bucket near a bonfire by the pond where young people were skating. None of the witnesses had seen it.

The court adjourned for luncheon with Sgt. Elwell scheduled to testify at the resumption of the trial.

Mr. Justice J. M. Coady is presiding, and the jury includes:
Wm. J. Roberts, foreman;
Thomas Neville, Wm. Clark
Mearns, Kenneth Reginald Genn,
John Maynard Whitwell, Wm. S.
Kennedy, Howard Kingsley Newell, Thomas Inkpen, Hugh McAlpine, Walter Gibbons, James Foyer and Wm. S. C. Brough.

Public Buildings May Get Chilly If Strike Lasts

City institutions, including the City Hall and schools, reported bunkers full but insufficient coal on hand to last through the winter.

The City Hall itself has enough to last until Christmas, according to the engineer. The position of schools is varied. Some "with good storage space, have sufficient to last until the holiday, while others, with smaller bunkers, would run out well before that time unless the stocks were replenished.

The Parliament Buildings have a small supply of coal in reserve, but it would not last long should there be cold weather or no further deliveries. Within a month, if the strike continues, offices in the government buildings will be cold.

Government House is better off. During the summer storage bins were built in the basement and a coal reserve built up.

Victoria's two big hospitals are getting their fingers crossed.
They have enough for a good many days, but deliveries must be made regularly or the supply will run out.

NO DELIVERY GUARANTEE Worried Victorians besieged coal offices today but were told there would be little coal in town, by the end of the week if the strike continues.

Certain dealers continued to take orders for deliveries far in the future, but would give no guarantee. Other dealers told the public there was no use taking orders at this time. Most coal dealers' telephones were busy all morning, many leaving their receivers down, so busy were they with people at the counters.

"We don't know where we are,"
one dealer said. "People with lots of coal in their basements should not worry, but we find those people are the worst. They want coal deliveries every month, even though they have enough for five and six months ahead, no matter how cold the weather might get."

Having doubled reserves over last year, Saanich school authorities believe they have enough coal on hand to meet requirements this winter.

Remembrance Day Must Be Observed

Nov. 11 is the date set for observance of Remembrance Day and may not be switched to any other day, without good and sufficient reason, the Labor Department ruled today.

Adam Bell, deputy Minister of Labor, said today the department is receiving many requests from factories for special permits to operate on Nov. 11. Mr. Bell, however, is pointing out that provisions of the Factories Act were intended to be used to enable a factory to operate on a holiday in order to cope with some emergency condition that cannot be overcome except by working on that day.

Mrs. D. Y. Givens, 76, Here 53 Years, Dies

Mrs. Helen Hume Givens, widow of D. Y. Givens, pioneer printer of Victoria, died in St.
Joseph's Hospital Sunday after a long illness. Mrs. Givens was born in Dumfries, Scotland, 76 years ago.

Mrs. Givens came to Victoria from Scotland 53 years ago, one of the many young girls from the British Isles who came here to marry the men who had preceded them to this country. She and Mr. Givens were married here the day she arrived.

Mrs. Givens was noted for her generous hospitality and had a wide circle of friends.

She is survived by one son,
James N. Givens of Victoria;
three daughters, Mrs. N. D.
Leeper and Mrs. T. T. Jarvis of Victoria, and Mrs. James Bradley, Port Alberni; five grandchildren, one brother, A. Houston, Victoria, and three brothers in Scotland.

Funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors.

Vegetable Prices Below Ceiling Here

Placing of a price ceiling, which became effective today,
on cabbage, carrots, beets, parsnips and turnips, may raise, rather than lower the price to consumers, as existing prices are in most cases below the ceiling, one Yates Street wholesaler said today.

"Beets are now wholesaling at $2.15 a sack, and the ceiling price is $2.50. The wholesale price on cabbage is 15 cents under the ceiling on 100 pounds," he said.

Carrots are 23 cents below the ceiling on 100 pounds and cabbages are 15 cents below the ceiling on 100 pounds, he added.
Turnips are at approximately the price ceiling, but there will be a half cent a pound difference in the washed and unwashed turnips. If farmers wash the turnips before bringing them in, the price will increase 15 to 20 cents on 100 pounds.

Belief that the government might have to place a subsidy on such vegetables as carrots and cabbage, which are imported from the United States from about February to May, was expressed by one wholesaler. The Canadian price ceiling, he said, was too low for the American produce. The Canadian government would have to subsidize the wholesalers in order that the latter could pay the price for the American produce, if the latter is to continue to come onto the Canadian market during the February to May period, he said.

F. O. R. E. Spooner, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spooner, formerly of this city and now of Vancouver, has arrived overseas. He was educated at Mount Newton High School and was employed by the Royal Bank before enlistment in the R.C.A.F. He was a flying instructor at Canadian air bases for 18 months prior to proceeding overseas.

Lights Come On All Over Victoria As Dimout Ends

With complete abolition of all dimout restrictions last midnight, neon signs, billboards, store windows and theatre marquees, darkened for almost a year, will blaze forth tonight in full prewar brilliance.

Cluster lights on downtown Victoria streets will be fully lighted as soon as the globes can be replaced. Colored decorative lights, which for years previous to last Nov. 18 when the dimout became effective, had shone over Victoria streets during celebrations, will be lighted for the next festival.

Since the modification of the dimout on Oct. 11, city light department workmen have been reinstalling light globes on streets along the Victoria waterfront.
They will immediately begin replacing globes in the cluster lights but it is expected two weeks will be necessary before all Victoria street lights shine again.

Except for blackout regulations which remain effective, until the air raid sirens sound there is no restriction now on any kind of lighting.

Far-reaching effects of the lifting of the dimout were foreseen on the morale of A.R.P. workers.

While authorities emphasized the strength of the A.R.P. organizations on the Pacific coast must be maintained, many felt that the suspension of the dimout—first government move indicative of easing of the military situation on the Pacific coast—would result in a lessening of interest in A.R.P. work.

"I expect only 20 at meetings at which 40 have been attending," one controller said.
At the same time, however,
A.R.P. authorities noted that the dimout had merely been suspended. The regulations may be brought back into effect for a few of several reasons, authorities said, mentioning the coal strike and possible changes in the military situation on this coast.

$1,000,000 Bonds New R.C.A.F. Goal

Having oversubscribed a $750,- 000 quota in the Fifth Victory Loan by approximately $150,000,
West Coast R.C.A.F. personnel will work towards a $1,000,000 record in the final week of the campaign, it was announced from Vancouver today.

All stations in Western Air Command will increase their original quotas by approximately one-third, it was stated. The new quotas will be considered as voluntary contributions and honor penalties will continue to be awarded on the original quotas.
"We feel that the excellent result from all units in the loan drive to date warrants raising the quota," a spokesman said.

P.O. Anderson Home From Desert Force

Wearing the "winged boot" signifying membership in the "Late Arrivals Club," P.O. Trevor M. Anderson, R.C.A.F., is home on leave after 55 operational flights over Egypt, Tripolitania, Tunisia, Algeria, Pantelleria, Sicily and Italy.

Only Canadian of an American crew attached to the 82nd Air Squadron, P.O. Anderson went into action October 22, 1942, when Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's 8th Army started to push Marshal Erwin Rommel out of North Africa.

ADRIFF IN STORM
While flying over the Mediterranean area between Crete and Tobruk last January with one engine of the Mitchell light bomber "out," the American pilot of Anderson's plane crashed landed on the sea. The crew was forced to take to their rubber dinghy and were adrift for 25 hours before being picked up by an R.A.F. crash boat.

During a heavy storm the R.A.F. rescue boat lost its propeller and rudder, but no men were lost. It was the worst storm in the Mediterranean in 25 years, said Anderson.

After being rescued the air crew was three days reaching Bardia, on the Libya coast.

The winged boot which Anderson now wears is awarded fliers who meet with mishap and finally turn up when given up for lost.

P.O. Anderson took part in the bombing of Palermo and Catania in the invasion of Sicily.

He is spending leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Anderson, 847 Carrie Street.

19 Escaped Nazis Hunted By Hundreds in Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP)—Nineteen German prisoners of war who escaped from a Riding Mountain National Park wood camp, today were sought by scores of police, guards and farmer-searchers.

The men, clad in army uniforms, were reported to have escaped from the camp into the heavily wooded country during a blizzard Sunday afternoon.

It had been storming for many hours, and today there was a heavy snow blanket in the bushlands of the park area, 240 miles northwest of Winnipeg.

The search is being directed by Inspector A. Bella, R.C.M.P., Dauphin detachment, who has more than 100 members of 10 detachments in the hunt.

Patrols were out on every highway, and a search of trains was underway. Farmers, whose farms border the park, were called to aid.

This is the first prisoner-of-war escape in Manitoba, and one of the largest in the Dominion. The biggest break was in the spring of 1941, when 28 escaped from a camp in northern Ontario.

Twenty-six were recaptured and two were killed resisting arrest.

The Riding Mountain camp was opened recently, with accommodation for 400 men, sent there to cut fuel wood for Manitoba cities and towns. Only one road runs through the bushland from Clear Lake, a park summer resort, to the camp site.

Industry is helping win the war...
industry must help build a peacetime world

The will of our soldiers assures an unconditional surrender...
The will of our people can assure a just and durable peace

Today the United Nations are joined in their determination to win a decisive victory. On every battle front and on every farm and in every production centre a singleness of purpose is speeding "unconditional surrender".

Tomorrow millions of soldiers and workers can have steady employment if they also unite with determination to bring about "a just and durable peace".

Prosperity can be realized only through the will of an informed and a united people. With their courage and their determination, the people's will to accomplish a righteous peace is irresistible.

People here, in common with people of other lands, can prosper materially and spiritually after the war ends—but only if now the peoples of the United Nations make loud their demands for "a just and durable peace".

Menuhin Made Musical History at 5

He didn't look like a world-famous violin virtuoso, sitting quietly in the Empress Hotel today, but fair-haired Yehudi Menuhin, still in his twenties, is in truth the violinist who has created music history since the age of five.

One look into the long pigskin box in his hotel room would dispel all doubts. In it rest two of the world's most precious violins—a Stradivarius and a Guarnerius. Four bows line the lid, amongst them a Tourne and a Hill.

Menuhin pointed out the black stamp about the size of a half-dollar on the back of one of them, explaining it was the family crest of the original owner for whom it had been expressly made by Guarnerius.

"They're very different in character," Yehudi remarked thoughtfully. "I expect I'll use the Strad tonight," he said in speaking of his concert at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Mr. Baller, who has been Menuhin's pianist for a little over two years, is the perfect foil—dark, very jolly and from Vienna.

The two laughed over many a little anecdote of their experiences, interrupting each

"Human Comedy" Featured at Cadet

One of the most eagerly awaited productions in Hollywood, William Saroyan's "The Human Comedy," comes to the screen of the Cadet Theatre with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's most impressive cast of the year.

Mickey Rooney, Frank Morgan, James Craig, Marsha Hunt, Fay Bainter, Donna Reed, Van Johnson, Ann Ayars, Dorothy Morris, are but a portion of the names that highlight Saroyan's first story to be put on celluloid.

Name Bands Proving Box Office Magnet

The reason for the influx of name bands into motion pictures of late is obvious—the bands are strong at the box office. Typical of their fabulous popularity, which bids fair to equal that of our best-known film stars, is the wide prestige enjoyed by Harry James and His Music Makers, currently starring in 20th Century-Fox's new technicolor musical, "Springtime in the Rockies," coming today to the York Theatre. The merry film also stars John Payne, Betty Grable, Carmen Miranda and Cesar Romero.

Toughest Role Yet For Robert Taylor

Robert Taylor comes to the screen in the grimmest role of his career as the heroic Sergeant Bill Dane in "Bataan," graphic story of the last stand of a group of American heroes against the Japanese in the Philippines. The picture comes today to the Atlas Theatre.

Laid in fox holes and swampy jungles, the story tells of human relationships in the midst of battle, and of a gallant fight to the last man. Tay Garnett directed with a cast that includes George Murphy, Thomas Mitchell, Lloyd Nolan, Lee Bowman, Robert Walker, Barry Nelson, Phillip Terry, Desi Arnaz, Tom Dugan, Kenneth Spencer, Roque Espritu, Alex Haver and Donald Curtis.

"Watch on Rhine" Comes to Capitol

"Watch on the Rhine," which opened at the Capitol Theatre today, is much more than stirring and dramatic entertainment. It is an experience in a motion picture theatre that comes alive, and is real as flesh and blood, pain and joy.

It is billed as a film starring Bette Davis and Paul Lukas, but when you come into the theatre you will meet Sara and Kurt Muller and that is how you will remember them, people whom you were indeed happy to know. It is the highest tribute that can be paid to acting.

Aircraft Factory Studio For Picture

Joseph Cotten is one movie actor who just doesn't like time off during a picture. Having a few free days from Universal's "Hers To Hold," in which he is co-starred with Deanna Durbin, Joe stood it bravely for 48 hours.

George Coulouris and Geraldine Fitzgerald top the supporting cast in the Capitol Theatre's new film, "Watch on the Rhine."

Monty Woolley and Ida Lupino are starred in "Life Begins at Eight-thirty," a film of heart-warming humor and tender drama, coming today to the Rio Theatre.

Preview critics the country over have hailed the outstanding film, claiming that it maintains the difficult blend of farcical comedy and serious drama throughout. The story is said to be rich with the humor of a man who laughed and let the world go by... tender with the courage of a girl who would not forfeit her right to romance.

Mosquitoes Destroy 3 Nazis As London Gets Brief Alert

LONDON (CP) — Speedy P.A.F. Mosquitoes attacked targets in western Germany Sunday night, the air ministry announced today simultaneously with the disclosure that these hard-hitting planes now are being successfully employed on the home front as night fighters.

The announcement did not specify the objectives of the fighter-bomber raiders, one of which was lost in the foray.

The disclosure that the plywood Mosquitoes now are doing defensive as well as offensive work came when it was made known they had downed three Nazi raiders over Britain in the last two nights.

London had another brief alert Sunday night as German raiders flew inland over the Thames estuary at high altitude, but only three or four penetrated to the vicinity of the capital. A few bombs fell in outlying districts and one man was killed and several other persons were injured in one suburban area.

Bombs also fell at scattered points in southeast England, but few casualties and little damage were reported.

British bombers, escorted by fighters, Sunday attacked German airfields on the Cherbourg peninsula and railway targets in northern France, while Canadian-manned Mustangs penetrated to the Paris area, where they shot down two enemy planes. Two British fighters were lost in these sweeps.

It was disclosed, meanwhile, that the U.S. air arm in Britain is being heavily strengthened and it was predicted the 8th Air Force might soon approximate Britain's own R.A.F. in size.

A satisfactory cork substitute reported from South Africa is made from soap, glue, cement and water.

U.S. Bulldozer Hits Jap Machine-Gun Nest

GUADALCANAL (AP) — A United States bulldozer doubling in an emergency as an offensive weapon knocked out a Japanese machine gun nest during the landing on the Treasury Island, it was reported today.

A New Zealand officer, whose men were held up a few yards from shore by strong enemy machine gun fire, saw an unidentified American drive his giant bulldozer from a landing craft which had just beached.

"The light of battle came into the American's eye," the New Zealand officer said. "With blade uplifted as a shield he barged through the undergrowth and then as he reached the enemy pillbox he dropped the blade, scooping up earth on the Japs and buried them.

"Halfway over the hole he swerved his improvised tank around and then pulled away, leaving a flat, smooth area and no trace of the Japs or their machine guns."

NANAIMO — President of the Thompson Lumber Co and resident of Nanaimo for 32 years, John Thompson, 64, died Saturday. He was a prominent Rotarian. Surviving are two sons, Noel and John, Nanaimo, two daughters, Mrs. D. A. Burnip, Nanaimo, and Mavis in South Africa, and four brothers.

HOW TO COMBAT Rheumatic Pains

Rheumatic pains are often caused by uric acid in the blood. This blood impurity should be extracted by the kidneys. If kidneys fail, and excess uric acid remains, it irritates the muscles and joints causing excruciating pains. Treat rheumatic pains by keeping your kidneys in good condition. HE FOUGHT THE GOOD FIGHT

Sergeant Joseph A. Gregory, M.M., has fought the good fight . . . not only in this war but in the last conflict in which he enlisted before he was fifteen years old, served three years in France and was twice wounded.

Today Sergeant Gregory is home in Canada. Behind him is the epic of Dieppe in which his daring sorties against snipers' positions and his gallantry and devotion to duty in carrying on despite a severe wound, which later cost him his eye, won him the Military Medal.

Sergeant Gregory is still "carrying on" as a member of the Recruiting Staff of M.D. 13, Calgary. He has two sons in the service, a sister in the C.W.A.C. and his brother was also wounded at Dieppe. Here is what the Sergeant says of Canada's Fifth Victory Loan:

"I'm out of action now and my two boys are taking my place. I'd like to know that they won't suffer from lack of equipment. Back up the boys who are in action fighting for us at home. We can fight for THEM by purchasing more and more Victory Bonds."

You, too, can FIGHT THE GOOD FIGHT

Dieppe . . . Sicily . . . these are the battle honours of Canada. Here Canadian soldiers won medal after medal for valour above and beyond the call of duty. Here our boys fought the good fight, as they are now fighting it in Italy.

Now is the time for you, too, to fight the good fight . . . to show your faith as our boys showed their heroism . . . to fight with your dollars as they fought with bullets . . . to buy Victory Bonds on a scale above and beyond the call of duty.

Remember, although Victory is now in sight it may yet escape us unless every one of us has the courage and devotion to see it through to the end. That is why Canada's Fifth Victory Loan is a vital challenge to all of us . . . a bugle calling for our best and finest effort.

Fight the good fight for the cause of freedom, the continued security of those you hold dear . . . the speeding up of Victory and all it means in a new and better civilization. Buy all the Bonds you can out of your savings. Buy more on installment. These are your Battle Honours.

HOW TO BUY VICTORY BONDS

Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you or place it with any branch bank or trust company. You can also buy Bonds through your employer for cash or on the Payroll Savings Plan. Or send your order to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Any one of these agencies will be glad to give you every assistance in completing your application. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger.
